

Sua Kalbelia Performing live in mBillionth Award 2013

Sua Kalbelia will be performing in Delhi 18th of July at mBillionth Award 2013. This will be the biggest mobile show in South Asia for 2013. Be there!

Sua Kalbeliya is among the best dancers in the Kalbelia troupe; a traditional dance form integral to the livelihood of the Kalbelia nomadic tribe of Rajasthan. In the olden days, the Kalbelia tribals shunned by mainstream society and deemed an untouchable caste, lived as snake catchers or 'Saperas' selling the poison to earn an income. Originally from Jodhpur, Sua's life has been a colourful journey travelling with the troupe across the world sharing her culture through dance. As a young girl of 8 years, Sua did not go to school. Instead, she spent her time learning the intricacies of the sensuous Kalbelia dance from her mother as has been custom for generations.
