

5th mBillionth Awards: Nominations Now Open

Nominations are now open for the 5th mBillionth Awards. We invite all innovators, developers and practitioners within Mobile and telecom domain from across 8 south Asian countries to apply for mBillionth Award 2014. mBillionth Award recognizes the best mobile practices and explores new apps which focus towards development. It tries to cull out the best mobile applications across South Asia under various categories and recognize them for their innovative ideas, implementation and consistent growth in addressing various social issues and utilities.

Applicants can apply under 11 broad categories, which cover many possible development domains in Mobile & telecom industry for example:-Entertainment, Heritage, Games, Disabilities, Agriculture, Health, News, Travel, Banking, Business, Women, Safety, Learning, skills, Speech and Language Therapy, Jobs, Traffic & Navigation, Public Administration, Children, Journalism, Inclusion, Environment etc.

In the last four years, mBillionth has received over 1500 innovative applications, which include corporate, Government and NGO initiatives, rural empowerment schemes and individual developments. The World is going mobile and so are the applications. We invite people to nominate their innovation in terms of mobile apps and effective mobile usage. Enter your Application here: <http://award.defindia.org/millionth>

We are providing significant opportunities to companies to partner with mBillionth Award South Asia , 2014 and raise their company's profile. For full partnership & sponsorship details: write us at millionth@defindia.net