

A Collaborative Transformation

From inception to implementation of community developmental projects, all the stakeholders are equally important. Though the role of non-government organisations is to bring positive changes in society but when they play the role of facilitator or enabler, the community takes lead and governmental involvement becomes prominently strong.

The story came from the ground of Bettiah, West Champaran, where Digital Empowerment Foundation took initiative to transform the Maharaja Harendra Kishore District Public Library with support of Gates Global Library Project. Within 8 month of project, District Education Office, West Champaran is taking keen interest to develop and renovate the library with new vision and mission. The progress with the library which was least priority for government became their primary agenda. It encourages many organisations like Digital Empowerment Foundation who are committed to bring in a fruitful change in the life of common citizen.
