A-CODE is an effort towards finding ways to enhance collaboration among civil society organisations that are working in different sectors, and advocating for a more pivotal role for the inclusion of the arts for social change.
Collaborating with organisations, using art & culture to raise issues of human rights

Collaborating on designed and creating a knowledge hub

Finding creative solutions towards relevant rights based issues

Illustrate & highlight the value of diversity of art, culture and heritage

Amplifying the voice of marginalised communities

Desiging creative tools to create a more positive digital society

Finding financial and non-financial resources from other relevant partners and supporters
A-CODE believes that artistic expression offers effective values and ample opportunities for discussion, criticism, knowledge, imagination, the sharing of experiences, and hope and healing; all invaluable tools for individuals and communities to imbibe into the lives they lead. The collective would deal with several important issues such as, Freedom of Expression, Social and Economic Marginalisation, Gender Inequality, Misinformation and Hate Speech, Digital Access, Internet Freedom Discrimination.
